

CONTRACT TRUST CALL #149

RECORD

DISCLAIMER Hello Everyone. Today is Saturday, September 10, 2022. Welcome to our Contract Trust Conference Call. We are not accountants, tax professionals, lawyers or currency dealers. We are not engaged in rendering legal, tax, accounting or other professional advice. Should you require those services, you should retain competent advice from a professional in that field.

WELCOME Thanks for joining us today. We are Indicator Information Institute. My name is Carol Werelius and my partner Jim Knox and I have these calls every 2nd and 4th Saturday of the month. These calls are recorded and available on our website, www.indicatorinformation.com, www.indicator-calls.com and www.iiicalls.com. and some of our older calls are on YouTube. As we get closer and closer to our expected exchange, we thought this would be a good time to review our Common Law Contract Trust, and why we think it is the best vehicle for you to protect your assets. As always, your questions are welcome. *6 to raise your hand.

Jim comments about value...

1. These Common Law Trusts are actually Contracts in Trust format. Technically, they are Irrevocable Common Law Contract Business Trusts. The beauty of that means they get their strength and validity from the US Constitution, rather than from laws created by local jurisdictions. Irrevocable provides superior asset protection.
2. As in any contract, one cannot contract with him or herself, so we use a third party to facilitate it. That person is the Creator.
 - a. The Creator temporarily takes title to your assets and exchanges them into the Trust. He or she then names the First Trustee. It could be anyone of their choosing, but typically he or she will choose you, the
